Intitulé : ESPON Improving Local Intermediate Authorities' crises preparedness and territorial Resilience (ResiLIAnce)

Description : This Targeted Analysis aims at collecting territorial evidence in the stakeholder territories to assess the strengths and weaknesses of existing policies for preventing and managing social and environmental crises. It shall scrutinise the effective preparedness of the stakeholder territories' response mechanisms to help improve their place-based resilience strategies and thus contribute to increasing their socio-economic development. Furthermore, the project shall identify good practices for encouraging a "risk culture" and propose an awareness-raising methodology aimed at policymakers, local stakeholders and citizens.
